

Daven Dass

Daven Dass LLB, LLM (WITS) is the Director of the University of Witwatersrand Law Clinic and also lectures within the Wits School of Law. As part of his masters of law he focused on clinical legal education in South Africa, which ignited his passion for the experiential pedagogy. He has since published and presented both domestically and internationally in the field of clinical legal education. He is actively involved in continued legal education through his association with the Law Society's Legal Education and Development (LEAD) program, through his course directing, lecturing and updating of course material and is also a board of control member for the LEAD Johannesburg School for Legal Practice. He serves as an executive member of the South African University Law Clinic Association (SAULCA) as well as a steering committee member of Global Alliance for Justice Education (GAJE).
